Oma & Noma Days 2007

The Story

Early on a spring morning in May of 1931 two young women waited, poised to claim their place in history. Oma and Noma Degraffenreid were sisters known for their vivacious spirits, and that morning they'd woken at 4 a.m. for the chance to be the first people to cross the newly constructed Bagnell Dam after Union Electric opened it to the public.

The Festival

Seventy-six years later the people of Lake Ozark celebrate the spirit, history and character of the individuals who were there at the beginning to make Lake of the Ozarks what it is today.

The second annual, three day Oma & Noma Days festival takes place on the Bagnell Dam Strip and includes an assortment of local musicians, craft artisans, country dancing, Little Mr./Miss Oma & Noma Days contest, historical exhibits, a 5k run, vintage car show and dam crossing, checker tournament, frog jumping contest, food, and more. Thousands turned out for last year's event. Don't miss this new Ozarks tradition.
